GOVERNMENTS REACH DEFENCE AGREEMENT IN MAJOR PRINCIPLES

Increased Annual Grant to Be Paid India by Great Britain—Capital Allowance Will Be Made For Re-equipment of Units—Board Of Experts to Report

LONDON, Sept. 12 (P).—Three battalions of British troops are being transferred from India to Great Britain and a fourth will follow later as a result of an agreement reached with the Indian Government touching the whole field of defence.

Discussions between the two Governments have reached a point where agreement has been reached on several major principles. The British Government, subject to the approval of Parliament, will increase from £1,500,000 ($7,200,000) to £2,000,000 ($9,600,000) the annual grant paid India in aid of defence.

A CAPITAL GRANT
In addition, Parliament will be asked to provide £5,000,000 ($24,000,000) as a capital grant. The grant will be used to re-equip British and Indian units and to purchase aircraft for squadrons of the air force.

The British Government will send a board of experts to India to inquire into military and financial aspects of defence problems. Final agreement will be deferred until they report. Lord Chatfield, retiring First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, will be chairman of the board, which is leaving in October.

AIRMAN MAKES FREAK FLIGHT
Hitches Plane to Tree to Take Off From Little Alberta Lake

EDMONTON, Sept. 12 (P).—Two Toronto youths, Thomas Senior and Kendall Kidder, were headed homeward today after five days' stay in the north. They had been on a flight southward from Yellowknife, N.W.T., 750 miles north of Edmonton.

When Patry had completed temporary repairs, he flew to Peace River.

MAKES DARING TAKE-OFF
The lake was so small and shallow, Patry was forced to hitch his machine to a large tree with a rope. When the engine was stepped up to flying speed, the rope was cut and Patry was able to make a steep take-off. The four passengers were left behind while Patry went for aid.

Patry returned later and, again using the freak take-off, took his passengers from the small lake, one by one to a larger lake where, setting them all into the machine at one time, he was able to complete the flight to Edmonton.

Gaining Pace With Thrust On Hankow

SHANGHAI, Sept. 12 (P).—Japan's overland offensive westward toward Hankow north of the Yangtze River, reached forward at an accelerated pace tonight, according to Japanese army reports issued here.

The army said capture of Hwangshen, about seventy-five miles east of the Peking-Hankow railway, was imminent as a result of land and air attacks.

MONEY IN CACHE UNDER RUG STOLEN
VANCOUVER, Sept. 12 (P).—A bedroom cache in which more than $1,000 in small bank notes was hidden was looted today by burglars who ransacked the home of H. Ray. The money was hidden under a rug.

Ray told police his home was entered and $1,000 stolen while his wife was absent for a short time shortly after noon. Wilson Holroyd reported seeing two youths in the neighborhood whose actions he considered suspicious.

Judges Applaud Great Livestock Display at Fair

Excellent Quality Animals Seen in Provincial Exhibition Classes for Horses, Cattle and Sheep—Many Championships Are Awarded During Busy Day for the Judges

GENERAL praise for the quality of the livestock displayed at the Provincial Exhibition at the Willows was voiced yesterday by the judges of the various sections, and in some cases they declared that the quality of the livestock was the best seen in Victoria for many years.

Yesterday could well be described as "Animals' Day" at the fair. Sleek, well-groomed horses, their manes and tails plaited with colored ribbons; ponderous beef cattle; sleek and the lighter dairy animals; ewes and rams with their fleeces smoothly trimmed, and nearly a hundred goats paraded past the eagle eyes of the judges, who were busy from early in the morning until late in the afternoon.

A record number of entries, 362, was received in the sheep section and the numbers of entries in the other sections adjudicated yesterday were as follows: Heavy horses, 103; beef cattle, 44; Holsteins, 88; Guernseys, 55; goats, 98. In addition, display products and four attractive displays of produce in the district competition were judged during the day.

Although a large attendance could not be expected on Monday, the exhibition was well patronized during the day, and the garish lights and "all the fun of the fair" attracted many hundreds last night.

Large Gain Is Noted in Attendance

The ideal weather conditions which prevailed all day yesterday and last night were responsible for a further increase in attendance at the Provincial Exhibition at the Willows Park and it was estimated that the total attendance was 10 per cent greater than on the second day of the 1937 fair. Paid admissions totaled 3,237, as compared with 3,083.

The big attraction offered by the rodeo caused a very considerable increase in the attendance at the Horse Show last night, and it was estimated that the number of persons who watched the show was almost equal to the combined attendance on the first two nights of the Horse Show last year.

Labor Wholehearted In Favoring Boycott Against Aggressors

Rousing Support of Foreign Policy Resolution Given by National Body at Niagara Falls Congress—Say Unionists Should Take Lead

NAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 12 (P).—Organized Canadian labor committed itself enthusiastically today to a boycott of goods from aggressor nations "such as Japan, Italy and Germany," and called for an embargo on arms shipments to aggressors.

A foreign policy resolution embodying the proposals gained rousing support at the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Says Germany Determined to Save Sudeten Minority From Oppression in Czechoslovakia

Key Members of British Cabinet Study Hitler's Speech Closely

LEGION PLEDGED TO SUPPORT GOVERNMENT

LONDON, Sept. 12 (P).—Prime Minister Chamberlain and three of his lieutenants, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary; and Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, met tonight to give detailed study to reports of Chancellor Hitler's speech at Nuremberg.

The conference lasted an hour and ten minutes and adjourned without any announcement being made. Mr. Chamberlain and the key Ministers had but an abstract of Chancellor Hitler's speech before them. It was expected they would go over the complete text in the morning with their advisers.

DOMINIONS KEPT INFORMED
It was stated the Foreign Office informed representatives of all the Dominion High Commissioners of today's Cabinet deliberations. Also Earl De La Warr, Lord Privy Seal, flew to Geneva to talk with Dominion representatives attending the League Assembly.

Immediate reaction in London had a note of subdued gratification that the Fuehrer did not shut the door to future negotiations under Viscount Runciman at Prague to bring the Czechoslovaks and the Sudeten German minority together.

Hitler's speech, despite insulting remarks aimed at Great Britain and the other democracies, probably will accelerate the British Government's efforts to put pressure on the Czechoslovaks to meet the minority in an amicable settlement, it was believed.

QUESTION OF RIGHTS
Some quarters interpreted the speech as a vital demand that the given right to set up their own state within Czechoslovakia. This interpretation was based upon Hitler's references to the Sudeten "rights."

Hitler's reference to the right of the Sudeten Germans to self-determination came a few hours after Czechoslovak Minister Masaryk told the Foreign Office his Government could not accept a plebiscite in the German regions of the country.

MARYLAND TEST ANTI-NEW DEAL

Roosevelt Opposed Senator Leading in Primary—Republican Ahead in Maine

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12 (P).—Maryland voters, balloting in a primary election that provided a direct test of the President's congressional purge, gave the New Deal-opposed Senator Millard E. Tydings a lead over the Roosevelt-backed Representative David J. Lewis tonight in their fight for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Far behind the third candidate for the nomination, Arthur E. Hungerford, New Dealer, whose campaign was shunted into the background by the intense public attention forced on Mr. Tydings and Lewis by their fight with Lewis.

Unofficial returns from 228 polling places out of 471 in Baltimore City gave: Lewis, 27,880; Tydings, 35,894; and Hungerford, 2,852.

REPUBLICANS LEADING
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 12 (P).—Republican candidates for four major Maine offices piled up definite leads tonight in an unofficial tabulation of returns from the United States first 1938 election.

Governor Lewis O. Barrows, Republican, who campaigned against the New Deal, held a lead of 9,000 votes over former Governor Louis J. Brann, Democrat, with nearly half the State tabulated.

In the three districts, Republican candidates for the United States House of Representatives held a comfortable lead over their Democratic opponents.

BRITISH FASCISTS ARE STONED IN SCOTLAND
ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. 12 (P).—An angry crowd of more than 6,000 stoned a group of British Fascists attempting to speak from a sound truck here yesterday, injuring three of them.

Police rescued the Fascists. Among the injured was W. K. Chambers-Hunter, Fascist candidate for the House of Commons, treated for cuts and bruises.

Promised Justice to All Nationalities

Edouard Benes, President of Czechoslovakia, subject of Hitler's personal attacks by Adolf Hitler.

DISORDERS ON BORDER

Two Germans Are Wounded—May Have Martial Law In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 12 (P).—A series of disorders near the German border were reported tonight after Adolf Hitler's Nuremberg speech.

Reports of disorders in which two Sudeten Germans were wounded and two bombs set off were received here, while Czechoslovakia was occupied by Czechoslovak troops.

Hitler's speech expressed the opinion that it was even more bitter than the average Czech was keenly resentful of Hitler's scathing remarks about this little war-created republic over whose 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans he has proclaimed himself protector.

Czechoslovakia generally interpreted the address as not a demand for a plebiscite in German regions, which some Sudeten groups have been demanding.

A DIFFERENT TONE
Some pointed out the difference in the tone of Hitler's bitter words and those of President Edouard Benes last Saturday in which Benes promised justice to all nationalities, especially the Sudeten.

Hitler's personal attacks on Benes, whom the Fuehrer accused of spreading "lies" in connection with reports of German army mobilization, was excused by Czechoslovak officials as declarations intended for internal consumption and designed to impress the German people.

The fact that Hitler said nothing about the Government's negotiations with the Sudeten and did not urge their suspension was regarded favorably in some quarters.

FIRES PISTOL SHOTS
The two Sudeten were shot, one seriously, in a disturbance at Graslitz, in West Bohemia, when a man described as a Communist fired two pistol shots into a crowd of singing, cheering followers of Nazi Chief Hitler.

The crowd chased the man into the postoffice where he was seized by police who spirited him away.

Hitler Implies Forcible Action May Be Taken for Self-Determination for Germanic People—Holds Out Olive Branch to France, but Scathingly Attacks Democracies

Attempts to Persuade Britain And France to Drop Interest

NUREMBERG, Germany, Sept. 12 (P).—Chancellor Hitler tonight said he was ready "to take all risks" to deliver Czechoslovakia's Germanic minority from an "oppression" intolerable to Germany. But he kept dangling the possibility of a warless solution of the Sudeten German problem before Europe's statesmen.

In a seventy-eight-minute address before 25,000 persons in the Nazi Congress hall, he closed the eight-day Nazi party convention by producing "self-determination" for the Germanic minority as the implied alternative to forcible action against Czechoslovakia.

NOT MATTER OF INDIFFERENCE
"I assure the democracies that the fate of the Sudeten is not a matter of indifference to us," he said. "If these harassed people feel they are without rights and aid they will get both from us."

In one respect, however, the Fuehrer sought to relieve the international situation: He held out an olive branch to France. Reasserting Germany's readiness to let bygones be bygones, he again renounced all aspirations for revision of the Versailles Treaty with a view to regaining Alsace-Lorraine.

He said: "Strasbourg means much, but we have surrendered it in the interests of peace to settle for once and for all the eternal strife with France. On other frontiers, too, we have made sacrifices. We have acted more than loyally."

WANTS DEFINITE UNDERSTANDING
Nazis pointed out one passage in Hitler's speech as significant. It was: "On the whole it is a matter of the Czechoslovak Government to arrange affairs with authorized representatives of the Sudeten Germans and come to an understanding one way or the other." In other words, he consented to continue negotiations, but wanted a definite solution before long. The official text of his address made no mention of ruling out a plebiscite as a possible solution.

While asserting positively no German deserved the name of German if he was not willing to risk his life on behalf of the people of the same blood in Czechoslovakia—the 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans—Hitler in no way committed himself on the method he intends to pursue to compel the Prague Government to give the minority the deal that he is determined they shall get.

UNION WITH GERMANY
That deal, in the light of all that has happened in the past week in the party congress, was regarded by observers as union with Germany of the region inhabited by the Sudeten Germans.

FORMER CABINET MINISTER DEAD

C. C. Ross, Once Member of Alberta Government, Collapses On Vancouver Street

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12 (P).—Charles C. Ross, Calgary, former Minister of Lands and Mines in the Alberta Government, died suddenly today after collapsing on a Vancouver street. Death came while he was being taken to hospital.

The fifty-four-year-old member of the Alberta Legislature for Athabasca, who resigned from Premier Aberhart's Social Credit Government in 1937, was stricken shortly after he left his hotel to go for a walk.

He had been spending a holiday here with his wife. Attendants at the hotel where he registered on September 7 said he had been in apparent good health before his seizure today.

SIX HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH
CALGARY, Sept. 12 (P).—Five young Canadians and an Ontario visitor had a narrow escape from death Saturday night, when their car plunged through a heavy guard rail on the highway seven miles east of Banff and hurtled over end before it crashed against a tree half a mile away.

Three girls in the party suffered broken bones or shock. Two young men were badly shaken up. The car was totally wrecked.

REGARD SPEECH AS WAR THREAT
PARIS, Sept. 12 (P).—The French Government, via the Chamberlain, Hitler's Nuremberg speech tonight as a virtual threat to resort to armed force unless France and Great Britain compel Czechoslovakia to turn over her Sudeten, German regions to Nazi Germany.

Declaring the Reichsfuehrer's speech increased tension in Europe and promised many weeks of armed alertness, a Foreign Office official said the only belief to be drawn from Chancellor Hitler's words was that "war is postponed for the moment."

DEFENCE REINFORCEMENT
It was announced that even while the Fuehrer's speech was pouring into Paris that tomorrow's Cabinet meeting with President Lebrun attending would consider further reinforcement of defence and measures to protect the civil population.

The Reichsfuehrer's announcement German fortifications facing France will be completed "before Winter," was interpreted by French officials as marking Germany's "time limit" for France and Britain to force ultimate concessions from Czechoslovakia.

Meteorological Work Is to Be Undertaken By F. Napier Denison

School Board Provides Accommodation at Victoria College for Instruments Used by Retired Observatory Director in Weather Research

VALUABLE meteorological research work will be continued at Victoria College by F. Napier Denison, retired director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill, the school board decided at a meeting last night. On the recommendation of Professor Percy H. Elliott, principal of Victoria College, the school board directed that Mr. Denison be given accommodation for his instruments in the building. His researches into weather phenomena will be published under the name of the college. A daily report on the maximum and minimum temperatures will be made available during Mr. Denison's studies. When his work is completed, he intends to turn all instruments over to the college. On the recommendation of the finance committee, the board sanctioned payment of general accounts totaling $2,484.34, and building accounts of $1,127.20. Trustee W. Percy Marchant reported that expenditures to date totaled $294,823.12. As far as he could see, the board was within its estimates, but he urged a cautious policy in regard to financial matters.

American Drum Corps Parades Here

Striking in their white uniforms, seventy members of the Commonwealth Edison, Post No. 118, drum and bugle corps of the American Legion from Chicago, paraded through downtown streets of Victoria yesterday in a "brush-up" drill prior to leaving for Los Angeles and the American Legion convention contest in which they will compete with 300 other corps for the championship of the United States. The corps wore the 1938 championship sash. Top picture shows the start of the parade from the Parliament Buildings, while the lower picture shows the brief ceremony at the Cenotaph, where wreaths were laid in honor of the war dead.

U.S. PARTY IS RECEIVED HERE

Premier Pattullo Welcomes Chicago Post of American Legion Corps

Premier Pattullo did the honors for the Provincial Government yesterday, in welcoming seventy-five members of the Commonwealth Edison Post of the American Legion, visiting here from Chicago. The touring party called at the Legislative Buildings, where Joseph E. Schuber, Fred E. Specht and Norris S. B. Green, their officers, were received at the main steps by the Premier.

The legionnaires, noted for their prize-winning drum and bugle corps, reciprocated a cordial welcome and sincere good wishes expressed by Premier Pattullo, and were shown over Provincial offices, under their leaders.

MANY SAW SERVICE
Officials in the group explained that the post represented 1,700 men who left the service of the Commonwealth Edison Company, of Chicago, to join the United States colors in the Great War, sustaining numerous casualties. With 800 members today, the posts drum and bugle band won the national United States trophy in 1936, in competition with 300 other corps.

Sitting in their white uniforms modeled after those of the United States cavalry officers, the band reassembled at the Cenotaph, where wreaths were laid to commemorate the war dead.

Later, in union with the standard-bearers from the various Victoria Canadian Legion posts, the unit marched through downtown streets to the corner of Blenheim

Holiday Tomorrow For Citizens' Day At Fall Exhibition

TOMORROW will be Citizens' Day at the Provincial Exhibition at the Willows Park, and to enable all residents of the city to attend the fair, a half-holiday has been proclaimed by Mayor Andrew McGavin. Yesterday, Mayor McGavin issued an appeal to all employers and employees to co-operate to make Citizens' Day a success, and expressed a hope that there would be a record attendance at the fair.

and Broughton Streets, where they put on a fifteen-minute drill display and played various selections for the crowds of spectators who lined the sidewalks to watch the visitors. The band dismissed to reassemble later on the wharf in time for the 5 o'clock boat to Seattle.

REHEARSAL ON TRIP

The display, which attracted bursts of applause from spectators, was the only rehearsal scheduled during the entire trip. The band will proceed from Seattle to Portland, and from there to San Francisco, before entering the contest in Los Angeles. Members of the Canadian Legion branches who welcomed the band at the docks were W. G. Stone, representing the British Columbia Command of the Canadian Legion; Clem Gill, of the district Legion council; C. F. Dawson, of the Britannia Branch; H. R. Daw, of the Naval Veterans; and Capt. Norman Porter, from the Chamber of Commerce.

HITLER DETERMINED TO SAVE SUDETENS

"The responsibility for the next move now is up to Great Britain and Lord Runciman (unofficial British mediator in Prague)," said one prominent official.

"At any rate, after tonight, nobody can make Germany responsible for what is to happen. Prague and London hold Europe's fate in their hands."

"The Almighty did not create 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans to deliver them over to a hated foreign regime," Hitler thundered. "The Almighty has not created 7,000,000 Czechs to act as the guardians of these Germans."

His words were greeted with demonstrations of intense patriotic fervor. Outside the hall, in hotels, restaurants and on street corners, Germans embraced each other. The Fuehrer's hatred of the Czechs, of whom he spoke in contemptuous terms, seemed to be centered upon the personality of President Edouard Benes.

"Benes invented the lie that we mobilized our troops on May 21," he charged.

"A great power cannot a second time stand for such a contemptible attack," he shouted. "I am a National Socialist. As such I always hit back immediately."

DOOMED TO EXTINCTION
He charged Czechoslovakia with "mistreating and oppressing" the Sudeten Germans, and said the minority was "being systematically ruined and doomed to slow extinction."

Hitler for the first time disclosed the carefully guarded secret of Germany's fortifications in the West—a subject to which only Field Marshal Goering hitherto had made a reference.

"I can assure you that since May 28," he said, "the most gigantic fortifications works of all time were begun in the West."

Then, apparently with the intention of warning France, he piled up an array of figures to show Germany's gigantic rearming activities on her frontiers with France, Belgium and Switzerland. He reported there were 362,000 workers, 100,000 labor service men, and numerous army engineering and infantry battalions at work on the fortifications.

He said each day 8,000 freight

URGES PUBLIC HEALTH BOARD

Metropolitan Area for Greater Victoria Advocated by Dr. Berman

Dr. David Berman, medical health officer for Saanich, is a firm believer in the inauguration of a metropolitan health area for Greater Victoria.

In an address in the Empress Hotel before the Gyro Club yesterday, in which he dealt with the work connected with the prevention of communicable diseases and touched upon the question of maintaining the health of the community in a high position, Dr. Berman said that a metropolitan health board was needed to cope properly with the situation.

If there were such a board, measures could be carried out to prevent the spread of all classes of contagious diseases. A policy would be capable of being put into practice throughout the whole district that would protect the children. Information which would be of value in this line could be disseminated.

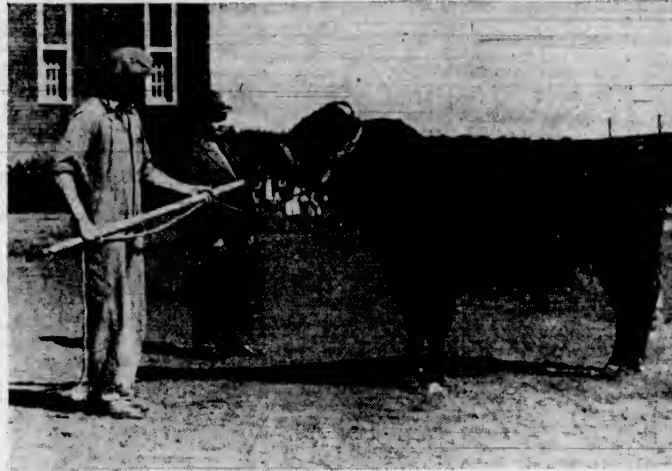

Dr. Berman traced the history of dealing with communicable maladies and pointed out that the rapid transit of the present day had a tendency to transfer certain all-ments over wide areas. He also dealt with the strides made in the knowledge of bacteria of various kinds at present, and of the lessons learned in combating these.

The need of having early information with regard to disease of a contagious nature was essential so as to combat the wider spread of it. The speaker was introduced by Arthur Minnis and was thanked on behalf of the club by the president, Everett Taylor.

EUREKA, Cal., Sept. 12 (AP).—A moderate earthquake was felt over the Humboldt Bay area shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The temblor was reported from Ferndale to the south and towns north of here, but apparently no damage resulted.

Dairy King is a Lincoln Red, and was imported from England by Senator A. D. McRae last year. The breed, which is new to Canada, is dual-purpose, being raised for both milk and beef production. The McRae herd is attracting considerable attention at the Exhibition.

THE NUREMBERG SPEECH

Herr Hitler's long-awaited speech on the Czechoslovakian question was not a provocation to war, but it has made that eventually a possibility, for one thing, because it has added fuel to something resembling a war fever that seems to be the more rabid of his followers. He has made it clear that Germany will not stand idly by and see the Sudeten Germans denied the right of self-determination. He wants that right exercised without let or hindrance from the State of which that minority is a part, probably because he knows in advance what will be determined.

Possibly the Nuremberg speech will clarify the situation in Central Europe. Herr Hitler did not mince his language. It was outright, particularly in relation to the strength of Germany, to the oneness of her official aims, and to her decision in the present crisis to protect the Sudeten minority in the Czechoslovakian State. The attitude of Germany is not going to make it any easier to find a solution of the Sudeten problem, because the recalcitrant minority in Czechoslovakia will gain heart of grace from the knowledge that it can rely to the utmost on German backing. Herr Hitler, indeed, by his pronouncement has accentuated the problem, because he has stated his determination that it must be solved according to the viewpoint of the Sudeten Germans. That does not preclude further negotiations, but now, more than ever, they will be carried out under the threat of German intervention, a menace which will not help to reconcile the differences that exist.

From the standpoint of the world at large, speculation is confined to prophecies as to how much nearer the Nuremberg speech has brought the possibility of a war in which many nations might become involved. That danger must always exist where one of the temperaments of Herr Hitler exercises so great an influence on the politics of Central Europe. The German ruler has been direct in his speech; there is no burying the implications. He has acknowledged the readiness of Germany to challenge the hostility of other Powers. There are some who will characterize his speech as one of bluff, but that would be a dangerous interpretation if the state of preparedness he claims for Germany is correct. There is no reason to doubt that Herr Hitler means what he says, and, in certain eventualities, is prepared to implement his words with action. To all intents and purposes he has promised action if the Sudeten Germans are not allowed the right of self-determination about their future. The move on the political chessboard of Central Europe is now one for Czechoslovakia and the Powers supporting that State.

There is one conclusion that cannot fail to be reached from the Nuremberg speech, and that is that, no matter what diplomacy may be able to accomplish, it is only a question of time before there will be an issue raised between Dictatorship and Democracy which can hardly fail to end in bloodshed. No one supposes that Herr Hitler's ambitions will stop short at the amalgamation of all German interests within the Reich. A Dictatorship can only thrive, even for the time being, on continued militant action, as was illustrated in the days of Napoleon. The perpetuation of that action inevitably leads to a dictator's downfall. Herr Hitler, like a predecessor in supreme power in Germany, is mistaking world opinion, or rather that large body of opinion which still supports the doctrine of democratic government. Despite all his protestations about the preparedness of his country, it is doubtful if it is in anything like the same position to wage war as it was when the neutrality of Belgium was violated. On the other hand, the Powers that he must find arrayed against Germany in the next struggle are infinitely better prepared than they were in 1914. Democracy is arming itself as never before for the inevitable battle which it will oppose Dictatorship. The Czechoslovakian issue may or may not precipitate that struggle, but all indications are that come it must, sooner or later.

TOP-HEAVY ADMINISTRATION

The exorbitant cost of government in the country is beginning to impregnate the consciousness of the people, as is indicated by more and more being heard on the subject. The staggering burden now being borne by the taxpayers, and for reasons that to some extent are unnecessary, can hardly fail to impress the members of the Royal Commission on Federal-Provincial Relations. If, in the recommendations of that body, there are suggestions for a drastic reduction in the machinery of administration, they will be welcomed by the people as a whole. That machinery is now cumbersome; it is a deadweight on the task of bringing about a resumption of prosperity in the economic life of the country.

A writer in The Toronto Globe and Mail advocates thirteen points of reform in the country's affairs, and while there are some who will not be able to go the whole way with him, he, at least, is on sound ground in most of his recommendations. He points out that the only way in which top-heavy taxation can be ameliorated is by Governments cutting down expenditures in line with the capacity of the people to pay. That capacity, he says, can only come in the long run from the natural resources and basic industries being developed aggressively with all Government support. His recommendations are:

- (1) Wipe out four of the nine Provinces. Put the Maritime Provinces into one Province; Ontario, one Province; Quebec, one Province; Prairie Provinces, one Province; British Columbia, one Province.
- (2) All five Provincial Governments to cut the membership by 50 per cent.
- (3) Ottawa to cut its membership by 25 per cent.
- (4) A complete investigation of the Civil Service of the country, to eliminate all political party hangers-on who have been filling positions which never should have been created, and whose services could be dispensed with without any loss to the Civil Service or the country. All salaries paid Civil Servants to be checked carefully. Cut all services to what is needed.

(5) Limit power development to the amount required for development of natural resources and any manufacturing industry that has for its purpose the fabricating into finished articles of our own raw material.

(6) Cut education down to a minimum as to costs till the country gets into a sound financial position. It is the opinion of the man in the street, to a large extent, that we have drifted too far away from the Little Red Schoolhouse.

(7) Maintain the National Railways. If Canada will reduce its government costs to a reasonable basis the railway problem will solve itself in a very few years.

(8) Increase the population in the rural parts, and on the development of the basics, and in time overcome the top-heavy urban population that exists today. The basic industries, being the life blood of this country, should have at least 60 per cent of the people engaged in same.

(9) Do not permit the expansion of manufacturing plants which only manufacture non-essentials. Reasonable tariff protection only to all manufacturing industries, not classed as basic industries, which can compete with foreign goods to the extent that the Canadian consumer does not suffer from unreasonable prices to make possible the success of any Canadian manufacturing company.

(10) Encourage immigration of people from good countries to increase the population of our farmers, preferably British.

(11) Eliminate all separate schools—Protestant and Roman Catholic—making one national school for Canada. Encourage the teaching of French in all English schools and English in all French schools.

(12) The banks, being the trustees, under the Bank Act, for handling the people's money, controlled to the extent that all overlapping is eliminated. Where one bank will give all necessary service in a small community, why four or five? The same thing applies in large and small centres. Needless expansion in many cases and the Canadian public pays.

(13) All cities—as to municipal government—to adopt government by a small commission of able men to put into effect sound business administration free from city politics, etc.

SOCIAL CREDIT'S PARADOX

It is a paradox of the Social Credit complex that Premier Abernethy, of Alberta, while seeking what amounts to provincial sovereignty so that he may put his thesis into effect, at the same time wants bounties on an unprecedented scale from the Federal Treasury. Obviously, the Social Credit he envisions needs to be buttressed by expenditures of cash. He wants the Dominion Government to engage in such outlays as will take care of all unemployment and alleviate all distress, and yet there has been at all times an endeavor to create the impression that under Social Credit there would be economic happiness all round. It now appears that it is a happiness that must be bolstered by bounties at other people's expense. It is not a self-supporting doctrine, nor does it accord with the Scriptural axiom that "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

The brief presented by the Alberta Government to the Federal authority suggests something in the nature of a potlatch for Premier Abernethy's Province at the expense of the taxpayers of Canada as a whole. It is wholly doubtful if those taxpayers will see the matter in the same light as do the Social Crediters of Alberta. Those taxpayers are already, through their Government, at Ottawa, subsidizing the Western Provinces to an unprecedented degree because of poor administration in the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia, where zeal for expenditures has out-run economic wisdom.

Sound economy is a sound understanding brought into action; it is calculation realized; it is the doctrine of proportion reduced to practice; it is foregoing contingencies, and pro- gressing against them—Hannah More.

Note and Comment

by Sandham Graves

There should be a law against anyone entering so marvelous an entertainment as a fair as staidly and apprehensively as if they were paying a visit to the dentist. Right from the start the patrons lose the correct perspective; they are waiting to be amused, instead bringing their own fun with them. Had this column its way, it would laugh the customers individually on a metal tea-tray, slide them down a steep incline in the old-fashioned way, and push an ice-cream cone into their hands as they emerged at the end of the chute. Then they would be prepared to enjoy their selves; they would see the grandest exhibit of all, their fellow human beings!

If you must walk in at the gate, let me beg of you that you skip a little, else you will make the race in. Believe me, the approach is important; it is the making of the fair. Even one slide down banisters, past the ticket-collector, would serve. That would loosen up your purse strings; get you over the fear of the unknown; and launch you clear on the road to see all the fun of the fair. Once inside, and in the right mood, everything is simple. Assume, then, that we slide down the chute, or coasted down the banisters, or even hopped in: in we are, with an ice-cream cone in our hands. What a sight it is!

Look at that chap coming out of the gate-wicket, counting his change. Poor fellow, this was his day for the dentist, but his wife brought him to the fair instead. He will never be able to get a tooth out here. He is just not done. That's all. Ah, this is better; here is a grandpa on the merry-go-round, riding nicely, too. No clutching the horse's neck. No fearful backward glance to see if the other horses are overtaking him. He is looking out of his eyes. "Sit tight, Susie," he calls to his grand-daughter, a plump mound of chubbiness on a nearby horse, "sit tight, and we'll go again!"

"Your character, for a dime!" It is a broad, good-natured face that beams at you, making the offer. What a bargain! Who wouldn't pay a dime for a character, and a good one, too? Just write a line or two in pencil on a slip of paper, and here, by cracky, is your character. Yes, it is only when the character is written that the points have been scratched out. Not a word about your short temper. Not a mention of your susceptibility to flattery. No, indeed. It is kind, generous, open, intelligent, and a good conversationalist. He is looking out of his eyes. "Sit tight, Susie," he calls to his grand-daughter, a plump mound of chubbiness on a nearby horse, "sit tight, and we'll go again!"

Here is the shooting gallery. My goodness, deer are fairly swarming all over the place: coming in an endless succession from the forest on the left, and disappearing with the same regularity into the forest on the right. Clay pipes, too, and targets; and bells that give out a sharp clang when a bullet hits them. Fire away, sonny, there is no life to take here; unless it be the life of the hunter. He has a bear a charmed existence. Perhaps he wears a bullet-proof vest. I know in his shoes I should. Bang goes a rifle and over drops a deer. It is up in a moment, and here it is coming out of the wood on the left. The boldest thing, it's not a bullet-proof vest on every last one of the herd!

Here is the ferris wheel, going higher and higher. My, what a wonderful view it is. Why, there are the roofs of the houses. There is a lighted street car, still on the track. Look at the heads of the people. Look at the crazy-crazy arena. Look at the lights, twinkling, trying to outshine the harvest moon itself. Hear the organ of the merry-go-round. "No, it's 'Johnny's in Town'." Not that, either. Never mind, doesn't it sound grand from away up here, quite fifty feet above the ground. Look at that young couple holding hands mind you. Aren't they the boldest things, it's not a brother, either; see, he has put his coat over her shoulders. A brother wouldn't do that. No, sir!

Ah, the new mattresses. Made in Victoria, too. With double-deck springs. You can bounce on either side of them. And sleep! Why, when you lie with the toothache, would sleep on that. That he would spiral springs, covered over with palm fibre, thick pads of down stuffing over that, and more stuff and material over that again. The new coaches, clipper of the road with a kennel in the boot for your dog. Here is a boy staring at the instrument panel. Maybe he's going to eat it. What is this, and that.

Old Lady (tasting beer for the first time)—"Goeh, it tastes just like the medicine my husband has taken for the past forty years."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 13, 1888)
May Hold Tournament Here—The chief engineer of Victoria's fire department has received a letter from the secretary of the Northwest Firemen's Association at Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, with reference to holding the next annual tournament in this city. It is stated that at least $1,500 for prizes will be required, and if this amount can be raised, the tournament, which has been held here for many years, will be held in Victoria. The association is composed of firemen from all the fire departments of the Northwest, and the event would be the means of bringing hundreds of excursionists to the city.

New School Is Opened—Yesterday morning the first scholars for the school for instructing defective youth, formed by John Ashcroft, of the Victoria Fire Department, for temporary quarters on Chatham Street. Actual work will begin today. Seven or eight will comprise the attendance until larger and more convenient premises are provided. The principal will be assisted by his sister, Miss Ashcroft, who recently arrived from Belleville, Ontario, for that purpose.

Effecting Improvements—The G.P.N. Company are erecting gates at the head of the incline leading to their wharf, which will be a decided improvement in the way of keeping hackmen and runners on the street until passengers are landed from the steamer.

Starting Gates
The Claret Puetz starting gate, now in use on all British Columbia racing tracks, is being used on many tracks in America, according to Claret Puetz, the inventor, who is starting the bangtails at the Willow's.

Willows' individual, really loves horses, and tells us that in many ways they are just like human beings. He does not believe in rough tactics with the thoroughbred, and feels that more success will be gained by kindness than rough treatment. Bad actors at the gate, and there are still a number of them, attend regular "school" sessions, being forced to spend two hours in the morning at the starting gates. Many bad performers are cured by this method. Starter Puetz informed us, a Claret Puetz gate costs $5,000, and is made to accommodate twelve horses. The one in use at the Willow's has eight stalls, four being removed before shipping to Victoria.

Recognized as one of the finest starters in the country, Puetz spent five years in the saddle, and two years as trainer before taking to the important job of starting the bangtails—ST.

Doubtful Bargain

Not long ago the Cedar Hill Clodhopper secured four small pigs from a colonial at what he thought was a bargain price of $25. A week later he asked the village paragon if he knew what breed they represented. The clergyman replied: "I don't know what you call them here, but back home in Bruce County they would be known as plain runts."

In Sweden the penalty for a motorist convicted of driving an automobile with an intoxicated is one month in prison. One assumes that the policemen there have few friends. Our tobaccoist friend claims to have read of a man who assaulted and severely injured his wife with an oak leaf. He got it from the dining-room table. Broad Street Bertie must be a contortionist or the possessor of a rubber neck. Last week a doctor told him he had a boil forming at the back of his neck and advised him to keep his eye on it.—GB

The Still Small Voice

We always feel for the speaker who, for the first time, conveys his message over a public address system. Accustomed to using the full force of his lungs to carry his voice to the back benches, he approaches the microphone, draws a deep breath, and bellows. "Ladies and gentlemen," then recoils in embarrassment as his own voice returns from the loud speakers like the clap of doom. But still more do we feel for the speaker who, having adapted his voice to the station tones of the public address system, suddenly finds that the amplifiers have gone dead, and from a dominating figure with a voice of thunder he has become almost inaudible. It happened on Saturday afternoon, during the ceremony of opening the Provincial Exhibition, and it was the president who experienced the embarrassment of having his voice suddenly drop to a whisper; but if embarrassed he did not betray it and carried on, though his voice and those of the speakers who followed him could be heard only by the audience in the front rows. It was not until the Premier rose to declare the exhibition open that the address system was persuaded to function once more.—R.M.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that club officials estimate that their big league teams travel 30,000 miles annually and look over 7,500 baseball players and one of this number about twenty show signs of becoming major leaguers? Congratulations to Mrs. S. Enke, the former Peggy Allen, on her fine victory in the Jasper Park golf tournament. When she rallied to defeat Miss Barbara Winn, Seattle, she beat one of the Sound City's best women shotmakers, which makes the Victorian's victory all the more cheered. Ollie Goldsmith, former member of the D'Amico's, is contemplating hanging up his basketball shoes this Winter and looking at the boys from the sidelines. What an easy prey the winner of the National League is going to be for Colonel Jake Ruppert's Yankees in the Fall baseball classic. Four clubs—Pirates, Cubs, Reds and Giants—are fighting desperately to get into the big show, while the Yankees are coasting along at ease with the nailing of the pennant flag just a matter of time. It all means that the National winners are going to be all in their pitchers extremely tired and worn out, while the "Yanks" will be as fresh as when the season got under way. It should end in four straight, in the opinion of the experts.—J.D.

Beware of advertisements which are mere catch-pennies! Alas! How many of you have wasted your money beguiled by wonderful stories all about far-distant lands and gratitude and late husbands? Is it not better to consult someone one is able to see and talk to, living right here in one's own home town rather than to venture to send money to some unknown person from whom there is no redress—except through law—which is costly—and therefore never resorted to? POTTERY HAS FIRST PLACE AMONG ARTS

All Departments in Art Section at Willows Show Good Standards

GIRLS' AND BOYS' WORK ATTRACTS MUCH NOTICE

The remarkably fine entry of pottery, one of the best displays of the kind ever entered at the Fall Fair at the Willows, is being commented on by all visitors to the Art Department exhibit.

Comprising jardiniere, vases, bowls, candlesticks, lampstands, jugs, ashtrays and various other articles, it shows professional skill in design, color and treatment, many of the pieces showing both glazing and double glazing. Mr. Beveridge, who judged the pottery, has expressed himself as highly pleased with the entire class, the display being largely attributable to the activity of Mrs. Margaret Orute.

VARIED DISPLAY

While no professional artists have entered this year in any of the competitive classes, either oil or watercolor, the collection on the whole is much better than hitherto, the standards in amateur work whether in oils, water-colors, or drawings, being exceptionally high. Commercial art classes called out some striking poster and book-cover designs, as well as book illustrations and lettering, this section being one of the best, from the standpoint of sound all-around standard. In the field of pictorial art and related subjects.

Not so uniformly good, but containing some excellent work, were the classes for amateur oil and water-color work. Animal studies and portraits were more popular than landscapes. In the section for drawings, more scope was given, certain classes not specifying "original" and a number of copies, therefore, being shown.

NOT COMPETITIVE

The entire art department gains much from the four or five non-competitive displays by professional artists: Arthur Parker, Cedar Hill, who is represented by nearly sixty beautiful water-colors in his well-known refined style; C. F. Barker, who has sent in four examples of his distinguished oil painting, including a striking picture of "The Lake," and another of "Cathedral Peak"; Mrs. Drummond Davis, eminent in the field of animal studies in oils, who is represented by her famous picture entitled "The Leader," a picture of a hunter, and by "Forest Scene"; and Miss D. Donohue, who has sent several examples of her always interesting work.

In the same section are wood carving, chip carving, models of boats (including one ditty-made model carved entirely by means of a jackknife), and some beautiful leatherwork, both tooled and embossed. Fretwork and inlay work are also found in the miscellaneous classes.

GIRLS AND BOYS

Donald S. Cameron, who is in charge of the art department this year, maintains that the girls' and boys' work has never been better. Beginning with classes for children between six and nine years, the groups work up through classes from nine to twelve, from twelve to fifteen, and from fifteen to seventeen. The standards this year show the influence of improved methods of teaching in the schools, particularly in the elementary group, where there is generous evidence of good instruction in design, brush drawing, knowledge of flower and leaf forms, and manipulation of modeling media.

C. F. Barker, well-known as an artist, had the work of judging the children's work.

In the art department is a photographic exhibit and a display of model airplanes.

James Turner's Canute of Foulwood was chosen champion stallion in the Clydesdale section, and was awarded the gold medal for the best Clydesdale stallion in the show. The champion mare award went to Panny of Foulwood, exhibited by J. W. Muir, Carstairs, Alta, and this mare also received the gold medal award.

Luther Harrel, Ellensburg, Wash., carried off the championships in the section for Belgians, Baron Crotti Brown being chosen champion stallion, and Jupiter Harrel's Darling, champion mare.

WHO was elected president at the recently-held first annual International Conference on Correspondence Education held in Victoria the week beginning August 22, Dr. Broady is professor of school administration at the University of Nebraska, at Lincoln, Neb., where the next annual conference will be held in 1940.

Competition was keen in the Southdown classes, and the quality of the sheep exhibited was particularly good, especially in the ewe classes, he said. Breeders were paying a good deal of attention to early marketing, and were breeding a type to produce good early lambs which could reach the market quickly. The fleeces on all breeds were very good.

The Oxford Down ewe championship was awarded to Mangara 14R, exhibited by Mr. Croxson, Winnipeg, whose McClellan 1R was chosen champion Oxford Down ram. R. B. Hunter, Winnipeg, won the Southdown ewe championship with Norbert Queen 70R, and the Southdown ram championship with Norbert King 56S, Canadian Pacific Railway National Resources won the Hampshire ewe championship with C.P.R. 104R, and the Hampshire ram championship with C.P.R. 248R.

SHEEP CATTLE

Professor J. P. Sackville, Edmonton, who judged the beef cattle section, referred with regret to the fact that there was no competition in the Shorthorn classes, but remarked that the only exhibitor, James Turner, Cadboro Bay, had displayed some really outstanding animals. He gave high praise to the Alberta beasts entered in the Hereford section, and remarked that these entries were particularly good. In view of the fact that they had been so long on the fair circuit, having been shipped frequently since first entered the circuit in July.

These remarks applied also to the Canadian Angus stock from the Alberta, which had competed against the strongest herds in Eastern Canada in Toronto and Chicago. These cattle beasts were an example of what black cattle should look like, Professor Sackville said.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

In the Hereford section, Mildred's Panama, exhibited by Miss F. E. Boggs, was chosen grand champion bull, and also was awarded the senior bull championship. The reserve grand champion award went to W. G. Bellamy's Bonnie Boccado III, exhibited by the Junior champion bull, Mountain Springs Panama, exhibited by the J. A. Young Estate, was awarded the reserve championship for senior bull, and the reserve championship for junior bull was given to Miss F. E. Boggs' Bonnie Mildred's Panama.

In the Hereford cow classes the grand championship award went to Miss Boggs' Alberta Lady V, and the reserve grand championship to Mountain Springs Lady VII, exhibited by the Young Estate. These two cows also won the junior championship and the senior championship, respectively. The senior reserve championship award was given to Mountain Springs Lady VII, exhibited by the Young Estate, which also was awarded the junior reserve championship for Princess Panama.

SHORTHORNS

Grand champion bull in the Shorthorn section, in which James Turner was the only exhibitor, was Royal Leader, with Royal George as reserve champion. These two animals also took the senior and junior championships, respectively. Royal Duchess was grand champion and senior champion cow, Royal Augusta, reserve grand champion and junior champion; Royal Attraction, reserve junior champion cow, and Royal Rosa, reserve senior champion.

HOLSTEINS

"Many of the animals in this section could go to the Royal Toronto Exhibition and win," stated George Tapeson, Vancouver, who judged the Holsteins. It was a fine exhibition, he said, and the younger classes were particularly good.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Supply Farm, Strathmore, Alta, and Colony Farm, Extondale, shared the championship honors in this section. The former's successes were: Junior champion and reserve grand champion bull, Strathmore Sir Hello Koba, reserve junior champion bull, Colony Perfection; senior champion bull and grand champion, Strathmore de Winton Hello; junior champion, Strathmore Koba Pearl Hello.

Oriental Home Golden Jubilee Is Celebrated

Church Service, Reception and Reunion Mark Over Fifty Years' Service in Caring for Homeless Chinese and Japanese Children

More than 200 friends of the Oriental Home celebrated yesterday afternoon at the home upon the occasion of its golden jubilee, which has been observed during the week-end with a service on Sunday in Metropolitan United Church, a reception yesterday afternoon and a reunion last evening.

The anniversary committee, composed of Mrs. George Guy, Miss Laurie, Mrs. G. D. Christie, Mrs. Frank Grant, Mrs. James Hood, Miss Grace Baker and Mrs. J. Graham, arranged the affairs, and an enjoyable day was planned by the entertainment committee composed of executive members of the Presbyterian W.M.S. of the United Church under the convener'ship of Mrs. James Hood.

Miss M. Laurie, superintendent of the Oriental Home, with Mrs. George Guy, Presbyterian president of the United W.M.S., and Mrs. G. D. Christie, received the guests assisting as hostesses during the afternoon were Miss Monop, Miss Gardiner, and Miss Book, who assisted Miss Laurie at the home.

TEA AND PROGRAMME

Gladol in colors of peach, pink and blue were arranged throughout the rooms, and the tea table, covered with a lace cloth and centred with yellow chrysanthemums, was presided over by Mrs. Frank Grant, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Roy Penderay, Mrs. Chapman and Miss Adams, all of whom are either daughters or daughters-in-law of the first members of the advisory committee of the home. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jung, Mrs. Wong Hong and Misses Yoshiko Nakajima and Kate Oyama, former girls of the school. Mrs. O. Gardiner convoked the tea arrangements.

The tea was opened by Mrs. E. Day Washington, Vancouver, provincial president of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, and Mrs. Margaret Wells, Sardinia, B.C., a former member of the staff of the Oriental Home, gave a short account of the history of the home. The Misses Maureen and Geraldine Whitehouse, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. A. E. Whitehouse, sang a duet, "Bless This House." Two little girls in the home, Naomi Suzuki and Lily Masuda, sang a duet, accompanied by Miss Tong. Another pupil of the school, Marion Lowe, played piano for the solo.

HOLD REUNION

The same artists took part in the evening programme at the reunion, which took the form of an informal gathering, recalling old times at the home and meeting former members who are now living out of town. A short worship service was led by Mrs. Wells at the beginning of the evening, and Miss Laurie read letters from former girls of the school and staff, who were unable to be present. Refreshments were served by eight of the girls now resident in the home. Rev. A. E. Whitehouse gave an appropriate address at the service held at Metropolitan United Church on Sunday morning in commemoration of the anniversary, and he read several letters from former residents of the home. Mr. Whitehouse was assisted by Rev. Charles Ling, Chinese missionary, and Rev. Yoshio Ono. Both offered prayer, and later in the service read greetings to the Oriental Home from the Chinese and Japanese missionaries and thanked the home for the splendid work it had done during the past fifty years in taking care of homeless Chinese and Japanese children. The Misses Whitehouse sang a duet, "Comfort the Soul of Thy Servant" (Crotch).

Meeting Cancelled

Its Prime Minister has promised that the Egyptian Government will make a contribution toward the cost of repairs to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem. Orthodox Moslems are critical of this decision and are asking why a Moslem Government should contribute toward the repair of a church of another religion. He was ever buried there—or anywhere else.

Installation Ceremony Held by Club Women

"Authorship today is becoming more real than in Victorian times, and more emphasis is being laid in sincerity and fearlessness in writing," said Miss Jean Elliott, daughter of Dean Spencer Elliott, in an address which she gave last evening at the installation dinner of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club at David Spencer Ltd.

Miss Elliott's talk was on "Authors and Authorship" and she gave a short survey of the characteristics of present-day English authors, mentioning in particular such writers as G. K. Chesterton, Kipling, Sir James Barrie, George Bernard Shaw, T. S. Eliot and Hugh Walpole. Never before had there been such numbers of books published each year, and it was estimated that forty new books are being published daily in England. Miss Elliott related many amusing anecdotes concerning authors and their work, and showed a keen insight into her subject. She had begun her literary career when a child of ten years, she recalled, and was giving serious attention to writing.

Mrs. M. Hall expressed the club's thanks to Miss Elliott for her interesting and witty address.

NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. H. P. Hodges conducted the installation ceremony when the outgoing executive passed on the torch of service and left the name of friendship. As the name of each outgoing officer was read out, the candle of her successor was illuminated and the new executive was given a warm welcome. Mrs. Far-

Early Times Recalled by Visitors Here

Here on their golden wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Johnson, Spokane, will stay at the Empress Hotel for several days before returning to their home.

"The last time I visited Victoria was my wife was long before the Empress Hotel or the Parliament Buildings had been blueprinted," the elderly Washington businessman recalled. "And I still have tender memories of the seven-course dinner served to us at the former Grand Hotel."

Mr. Johnson thought that while Victoria had expanded tremendously during the past few decades, none of the old world charm mentioned by American visitors had been lost in the process. Victoria has a very high reputation throughout the United States as being the ideal spot in which to spend a vacation, he added.

Country Fair at Metchoshin Aids Catholic Church

Finland and representatives from Langford.

The "wishing well," in charge of Misses "Nancy" House and Paula Jonas, proved a great attraction. Misses Agnes and Gertrude Biermann and Terry McCreight had clock and other competitions, and Mesdames C. Jackson and W. Martin, the home cooking stall. Tea was served by Mrs. J. J. McCreight and Mrs. I. Jonas, assisted by Misses Cecilia Milne and Grace McKilligan.

Good Prices Rule at Willows as Favorites Beaten in Five Races

My Mint Returns $70.65 in Second Event—Daily Double Pays $85.55—Thrilling Finish in Seventh Race—Jockey Kelly Set Down

With the favorites beaten in five of the seven races, good prices were returned to lucky punters yesterday at the Willows track, as British Columbia's final meeting of the year passed its second day.

Double-figure returns, the kind that make the lucky bettors' eyes sparkle, were posted on the board in the midst of My Mint taking the honors for the top return of the day. Well handled by Heller, the young apprentice rider, My Mint galloped to victory in the fourth race and returned his backers with $70.65 and, incidentally, the highest price of the meeting.

While the heavily backed thoroughbreds found it difficult to get down in front, form players generally enjoyed a fair day. Selections that failed to place their horses on the top had a number of thoroughbreds in the "money."

Dark Devil, heavily backed by John Public, took the initial gallop at five and one-half furlongs, and paid $4.65, the shortest price of the day. Jockey "Cotton" Barnett was in the pilot house. Easter Kid was second and Chief Lady third.

ETHEL STAR WINS

Going to the gates at odds of little better than 6 to 1, Ethel Star, with Frank Wilbourn in the pilot house, topped the lion's share of the purse with an impressive victory. Glacine finished with a neck decision over May Mint, who took the show portion of the money.

Made the third choice by the bettors, Grice, with Collette aboard, led the field to the judges' stand in the third event. Frenchman was second, a length behind the winner, and Salinas, the favorite, was third.

Madam Lucy, second choice mount, flashed past the wire a winner in the fifth race at one mile, scoring a neck decision over La Nimba, locally owned bangtail.

Jockey Ralph Young, who piloted home two winners on the opening day, brought Selma-Mortgage home in front in the sixth event, four lengths to the good. Golden Token was second and Harris, who just missed taking the place shot, was third.

Providing the best finish of the meeting, Maggie O'Boyle, fourth choice mount, pushed her nose past the judges' stand first in the final gallop of the day. Madame Chene was second, half a length behind the favorite, the latter finishing with a neck decision over the Pagan, the heavily backed favorite.

The daily double, Ethel Star to Grice, paid $85.55, while the one-two bets in the fifth and seventh races returned $10.05 and $42.50, respectively.

Jockey John Kelly was set down for the remainder of the meeting for crowding in the sixth race. He had a leg up on Wednesday at the time.

Ralph Neve, ranking American jockey, who rode Triple Crown winner in the Longacre $10,000 Mile event Sunday, on the Seattle track, was a visitor to the Willows yesterday. Introduced over the public address system the visiting hard-boss was given quite an ovation.

Another good programme of seven races will be presented today, with the Port Angeles Race Club at five furlongs and thirty yards as the feature attraction. First post time is 1:45 o'clock.

Dates for McKechnie Cup Play Discussed By Victoria Union

MEMBERS of the Victoria Rugby Union, at a special meeting yesterday in The Coliseum, discussed the dates suggested by Vancouver Rugby Union. They are, however, in opposition to the proposal to have Victoria visit Varsity on Armistice Day, as that date has been set aside for the annual Navy-Army fixture at Macdonald Park. The first-half schedule, proposed by the local union, is as follows: October 10, Vancouver at Varsity; November 26, Victoria at Varsity; December 26, Vancouver at Victoria. Major Stuart Robertson, president of the Victoria Rugby Union, brought forward a proposal that the chairman of the referees' board inaugurate a training school for referees, prior to the start of the 1938-39 season.

GREENBERG HITS NO. 50 OF THE YEAR

Detroit First Baseman Remains Ahead of Babe Ruth's Record

DETROIT, Sept. 12 (AP).—The Tigers' one-two punch, Hank Greenberg and Rudy York, accounted for another victory today as the Tigers edged out Chicago White Sox, 4-3, in the major leagues' only game.

Greenberg drew closer to Babe Ruth's home-run record of sixty by slugging No. 50 in the third inning with the sacks empty. York batted home the winning run when he doubled to centre in the sixth to score Greenberg.

The homer put Hank four games ahead of the Babe's standard in games played. In his gain year of 1927, Ruth hit No. 50 in his 138th game on September 11. Greenberg played his 134th game today.

TIME OUT!

By Chet Smith

Quite a Distinguished Aviator—Distinguished Because He's Never Made a Trans-Atlantic Flight!

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"He'll Only Haunt You If You Don't Pay Your Rent."

Jane Dixon Says:

A YOUNG WOMAN, WHO ONCE TOLD HER SWEETHEART THAT SHE DID NOT LOVE HIM, HAS LIVED TO REGRET IT.

We should never make a decision affecting the whole of our lives on any except a permanent basis.

Why? Because the chances are we shall have to hold our decision, whether we like it or not.

When love and opportunity come knocking at our door and we turn them away, they rarely come back in the same guise, to knock a second time.

Dear Jane Dixon:

I'm a girl of nineteen and am very much in love with a boy my own age.

At one time I promised to marry this boy. We had our first date two years ago and shortly afterward he told me he had been in love with me since the first time he saw me. He said he knew I did not love him, but asked me to try to learn to care for him.

I did not try and it didn't take me long to find the answer. He was so thoughtful, allowing me all the time I wanted to make sure I really cared deeply. In the end he won me completely.

I promised to wait until he had finished school and had a good job; then we would marry. We never told our parents about our plans, but they knew we were very fond of one another.

We started going together in the Fall. The following Spring I became ill and was in poor health for a long time. There was danger of my going into tuberculosis because of my weakness. The boy isn't very strong either; he has heart trouble. My mother told me while I was still in bed that we were fools if we were thinking of marriage because there was the possibility of children to think of and where would their health come from with two sickly parents?

We both love children and had planned to have a small family, but I could see mother's point; instead of telling the boy the truth I told him I didn't love him enough to marry him. He took it hard, but said if ever I changed my mind he'd be waiting. He left for another place when I was up and about. Someone wrote him I was going with a boy I'd known in school. He came home to see for himself and found it to be true. I thought that by going out with other boys I might forget him.

I made a mistake. I can't forget him, Miss Dixon. My people moved away and I haven't seen him but once in a year. We both have better health now. He says he still cares as much as ever, but insists we should not become engaged for a couple of years so that this time there'll be no mistake. Meantime he thinks we should both go where we wish, with whom we wish. I don't like this idea now. I would gladly marry him today. I love him twice as much as ever. Maybe he is afraid I'll fail him again. What do you think?—G.A.

Comment: The young man is right! You both are young enough to take your time about making this decision—especially the man who is younger at nineteen than is a woman the same age. If state of health was your reason for sending him away the first time, you should have consulted a physician who could have given you authentic information. The truth of the matter is you weren't quite sure about your love. Now, perhaps, the young man isn't quite sure of himself, of you, of your future together. You will need patience and faith to win him, if he is to be won!

Short Wave Club Will Hold Hunt

Twenty members of the Victoria Short-Wave Club met on Saturday night at 2024 Carnarvon Street for their business session. R. Tate presided.

A treasure hunt will be held on Sunday afternoon, September 25, when a transmitter will be hidden in a car situated within a five-mile radius of the City Hall. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Don McVickers, C. Bradbury and Jack Thompson, visitors to the club, were welcomed during the evening.

Work on the new clubhouse on Poul Bay Road is showing good progress, members reported.

For Australia

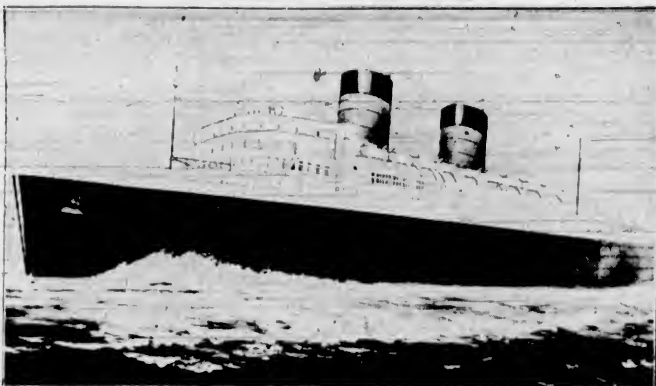

Loading lumber cargo for Australia, two freighters were alongside Ogden Point Piers yesterday. They were the Ss. Harmatris and the Ss. Nalissa Meadow. CUT IS HINTED
Marquis de Vogue, president of the Suez Canal Company, presiding at the general meeting in Paris, said the board was considering a further reduction in transit dues. He said the increasing use of fuel oil which made it more possible to avoid the passage of the Suez Canal, as well as certain tariff facilities, made it a good policy to keep the canal dues as low as possible. The Panama Canal dues were once equal to those of the Suez Canal, but are now only 60 per cent of tolls prevailing today at Suez.

WILL OFFER CRUISE
The Cunard-White Star Line flagship Queen Mary, which so far has not been diverted from the trans-Atlantic service, and is the only one of the big liners which has remained steadily in the New York run, will be used next month for an experimental voyage. Although the liner will carry her regular trans-Atlantic passengers, the run will be something in the nature of a cruise. She will leave New

New Cunard-White Star Atlantic Liner

The Mauretania, which was launched recently, is the largest passenger vessel ever built in England. Ten decks will have accommodation for 1,250 passengers. The Mauretania is 772 feet long. Lady Bates, wife of the chairman of the Cunard-White Star Line, performed the launching ceremony.

York, October 19, and return November 3, laying over a longer time in Southampton than is usual, and giving her round-trip passengers five days in Europe. The cruise angle is being stressed on this sailing, and the ship will carry a cruise director for the voyage.

NEW STREAMLINER
A new Hiawatha, built completely new from the wheels, roomier and with added conveniences and comfort for travelers—the third since the introduction of the speed train three years ago—will begin service on September 19 between Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul-Minneapolis, according to Eric Marshall, local agent. Hauled by the first newly-built streamlined steam locomotives and acclaimed a marvel in transportation development when the train began service in 1935, nearly a million paying passengers, averaging more than 800 daily, have traveled on the Hiawatha.

CRUISES SOUTH
Significant on the travel chart looms the expansion in travel to South America. If last year's traffic was heavy, the Fall and Winter of 1938-39 promise to be even bigger, according to Cook's, with the capacity of regular steamship services augmented by fortnightly sailings of the Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina. Ten cruise ships are scheduled to visit Rio de Janeiro as against five last year, and whereas last winter saw three cruises around South America, this year there will be four.

Bowen, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and Mrs. Bowen.
Today was spent on a drive down the famous Columbia ice-field scenic highway, and the Athabasca Glacier was at its best, under a scorching hot sun and a clear sky without a cloud visible. Other shorter trips will be made before she continues her journey.

"Any of the Princess Pats around here" was her first question as she entered Jasper Park Lodge. Only two were available in the district: W. Poppy, a lieutenant of the famous regiment, and P. Rutledge. They were also guests at the Lieutenant-Governor's dinner. Miss Morris will continue her journey westward from Jasper on Monday afternoon.

PROHIBITED FOR WEEK AT LEAST

Salmon Fishing in District 1
Stopped by Supervisor—Fish
Milling in Gulf

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—Salmon fishing in District No. 1—Fraser River and Gulf of Georgia—will be prohibited for one week at least, and possibly for two or three weeks. Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries, said here today.

Major Motherwell, returning here from a survey of spawning grounds in the Interior of British Columbia, stated escapement in earlier sockeye runs had been fairly satisfactory. He said the great bulk of the present sockeye run was believed to be coming from the Strait of Georgia, their action governed by wind and tide, and that they would likely head for the spawning grounds with the first heavy rain.
